In light of the applicant's comments in the appeal brief of August 12, 2002, it has been determined that neither a 35 USC 102 nor 103 rejection can be made base upon the prior art of record. However, the issue of new matter, couched in the objection to the specification in the previous office action, still remains. It should be noted that objections to the specification cannot be appealed. Therefore, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn and prosecution of the application has been reopened so that a rejection based on the new matter issue can be properly made and subsequently appealed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-5, 7, 9 and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Although the applicant originally disclosed the concepts of focusing the sensors upwardly and focusing the sensors at an angle of approximately 10 degrees from the vertical, the applicant has not disclosed the specific range of no more than about 10 degrees from the vertical. Even though the terminology "upwardly" includes the range of no more than about 10 degrees from the vertical, the applicant must clearly set forth the specific range of no more than about 10 degrees from the vertical in order to show that the applicant had possession of the claimed invention at the time of filing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-5, 7, 9 and 12-16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Recitations such as "an extended arm" on line 10 of claim 1 render the claims indefinite because it is unclear if the applicant is referring to the object set forth above or is attempting to set forth another object in addition to the one set forth above.
